The project aims at designing transnational sector-wide occupational standards for professions at wellness sector and developing and assessing competences of employees.

Occupational standards have been already created as a benchmark of competences by the six partners. The second activity of the project involved the development of training materials (practical exercises, videos, interactive tools) that were tested with teachers, trainers and learners as a pilot activity. Finally, the development of the assessment tools for the validation of competences defined in the professional profile was created.

On the 14th of September the 4th online transnational meeting took place, during which the partners have discussed the progress of the adaptation of the training materials and the assessment tools. As the project is towards its end, the partners also discussed about the national multiplier events that will take place in each country for the presentation and dissemination of the deliverables and final results of the project.
