

PRESS RELEASE 6

Implementing research to identify Employers' & Employees' views on the LEARNing Workplace

The LEARN project aims to transform the workplace into a learning environment and working time into an opportunity for continuous improvement. In this way, both employees and employers benefit. How do these two groups view the concept of a LEARNing Workplace though?

All LEARN project partners are currently conducting focus groups in their respective countries in order to identify Employees' and Employers' views in this respect. The objective of the focus groups is twofold: 1) to explore and record the attitudes and opinions of the two target groups towards the idea of transforming workplaces into learning spaces and 2) to explore and record possible activities that could be implemented to achieve this objective.
